

Page numbers in boldface type refer to illustrations.

A

Adorno, Theodor, 231, 279n146, 284
 adventure. See also Bōken sekai (Adventure World):
 depiction of “beautiful women,” 87–88, 101;
 magazines for boys, 59–60, 83; novel Kaijin
tettō (The Mysterious Creature of the Steel Tower) (Oshikawa Shunrō), 90–91, 91, 92,
 101, 258n65, 260n98; novel Shin kaitei ryokō
 (New Travels on the Bottom of the Sea) (Uka Senshi’s (Shibue Tamotsu)), 86, 93–94, 96, 258m 55, 259n69–70, 301; novels/magazines of Meiji period, 60, 66–67, 74, 83–89; novels share antigovernment sentiments, 83
 agrarian nationalism (nōhonshūgi), 213, 225
 Agricultural Cooperative Association (Nōkyō), 216.
See also ie no hikari (Light of the Home)
 agricultural cooperative movement, 217–219
 Alfred of Britain, Prince, 22
 Altman, Rick, 84, 258n50, 284
 Ambaras, David R., 195–196, 247n31, 274n51, 284
 Anderson, Benedict, 2–3, 241n7, 279n148, 284
 Andō Hiroshige (woodblock (ukiyo-e) master), 133
 Aoyagi Yūbi (journalist), 58, 252n126, 284
 Arjun Appadurai, 196, 274n56, 284
 Asahi Heigo, 116–117, 262n137, 262n139
 Ashikaga Takauji, 79, 257n31, 302

B

Baba Kochō (writer), 54, 251n112
 “backward” (okureta), 4, 179, 224
 “backwardness”: of country folk, 179, 231; of rural
 Japan, 216, 234; of village life, 178–179, 193,
 224; of village women, 224
Bakufu suibō ron (The Decline and Fall of the Tokugawa Bakufu) (Fukuchi Gen’ichirō), 142
Bakumatsu shōshi (A Short History of the Last Days of the Tokugawa Shogunate) (Togawa Zanka (Yasuie)), 143–144, 266n55–56, 300
 Bakunin, Mikhail (anarchist), 115, 247n40, 284
 barmaid (shakufu), 190
 Battle of Goryōkaku, 127
 Battle of the Sea of Japan, 160
 Battle of Tōba-Fushimi, 124, 248n54
 Battle of Ueno Hill, 131, 134
 Baudelaire, Charles, 1, 54, 284
 Baxandall, Michael, 135
 Benjamin, Walter, 2, 173, 235, 238, 271n136, 280n9
 Ben-Yehuda, Nachman, 185, 272n15, 289
 Bigot, Georges (artist), 44
 Bloss, Peter, 101, 260n95, 260n97, 285
 bob hairstyle (danpatsu), 191
Bōken ryōkō-jutsu (guidebook on adventuring), 66
Bōken sekai (Adventure World). See also Oshikawa
 Shunrō: about, 60, 64, 66–67, 83–84; “Bōken
Sekai Reader’s Choice—The Ranking of the World’s Heroes,” 105, 106; haikara students vs. bankara students, 62–63, 63; “heroes and troubled times” (ei-yū to fū’un), 107, 108; hero worship, 105, 107; “Imposing Physiques—

Look at their cut muscular bodies!,” 64–65, 65;
 “Knock out the High-Collar with One Punch,”
62; Kujirajima Raihei (student) gives valedictory address at his university graduation, 60, 62, 62; militarized masculinity and barechested muscular hero, 64, 64; “Society’s Storms,” 61, 61; “Which Group Do You Belong To?,” 62–63, 63

Boortsin, Daniel J., 107
 Boshin War (1868–1869), 124–125, 129, 131–132,
 143, 157, 174, 248n54
 Bourdieu, Pierre, 215, 277n112, 277n115, 285
 Boym, Svetlana, 2, 10, 241n6, 243n9, 285
 Brass, Paul R., 11, 243n11, 245n6, 285
 Breuille, John, 10, 243n10, 245n6, 285
 brothels, 29, 192–193, 273n39. See also geisha
 Buckle, Henry Thomas, 136
 Buddhism, 180
Bunmei tōzen-shi (A History of the Eastward Advance of Civilization) (Fujita Mokichi), 137
 Butler, Judith, 72, 237, 245n2, 255n1, 255n3, 255n6,
 280n14, 285

C

café waitresses (jokyū), 184, 189, 191–192. See also
 brothels; prostitutes
 Carlyle, Thomas (British historian). See also Yamaji
 Aizan: about, 75, 77–80, 82, 108, 256n18–19, 256n25; On Heroes, Hero-Worship, and the Heroic in History, 77, 256n17, 256n27–28, 285
 Carroll, Noël, 89, 258n59, 285
 Cartoon Art Museum (Manga Kaikan) in Saitama, x
 castration. See also sexuality: and separation anxiety, 238; symbolic, 239, 257n29; threat drives male child away from his dependence on the mother, 73 ceremonial dress (reifuku), 150, 267n70
 ceremonial rice planting rituals, 233
 Ch’ang Hung (Chinese legend), 127
 Chatterjee, Partha, 71, 255n156, 285
 Chikamatsu Monzaemon, 163, 270n107
 Chodorow, Nancy J., 99–100, 255n8, 260n89,
 260n96, 286
 Chōshū shishi, 118
Chōya shinbun (publication), 149, 262n123–124,
 266n64, 267n68, 267n73, 268n75
 Christianity, 76, 137, 139, 143
 Clifford, James, 193–194, 274n45, 286
 clothing or dress (fukusō), 1
 Cohen, Stanley, 185, 272n15, 286
 comic storytelling (rakugo), 179 “Corrupt Manners (daraku fūzoku): Today’s effeminate schoolboys,” 198
 cosmetic party (kosumechikku-tō), 48
The Country and the City (Williams), 225, 278n129, 301
 Cletcher, Chas, 187, 272n21, 286
 cultural identity, 11, 18, 70, 124; Japanese, 174, 232
 “Cultural Identity and Diaspora” (Hall), 177, 289
 cultural imperialism, 232

Index to: Gender and Nation in Meiji Japan: Modernity, Loss and the Doing of History. Author: Jason G. Karlin.Indexed by: Clive Pyne Book Indexing <http://www.cpynebookindexing.com>

culture of everyday life, 11, 13, 18, 121, 123, 166, 174–176

D

Daihyōteki Nihonjin (Uchimura Kanzō), 110
daijōsai (festival of great eating), 213 de Certeau, Michel, 123, 261n105, 264n10, 286
The Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire (Gibbon), 142
 “degenerate schoolgirl” (daraku jogakusei), 195, 203–206, 208–209
 Deleuze, Gilles, 19, 92, 95, 258n66, 259n75, 286
 depopulation (kasoku mondai) in rural areas, 233
 Derrida, Jacques, 237, 280n11, 286
 Dinnerstein, Dorothy, 99, 260n90, 286
 Doak, Kevin M., 14, 66, 242n11, 244n17, 245n6, 253n139, 286
Dōchū hizakurige (Ikku Jippensha), 67
 Duus, Peter, x, 38, 244n16, 248n56, 251n96, 279n144, 287

E

early Meiji period. See also Meiji period: antique stores, 159; country folk (akagetto) (red blankets), 181; Edo-style art, 155; everyday life experience transformed, 152; fashion of Japanese gentleman, 22, 55–56; foreign settlement of Yokohama, 38; gas lamps, 133; government’s plans to restore/modernize Kan’eiji, 130; heroes of history symbolized defiance of convention and spiritual domination, 80; kagetsu-maki hairstyle popular among women, 191; Kiyochika’s early work, 133, 136; monkey performances (saru mawashi), 35–36, 36; “nationalistic reaction” to Westernization, 122; newspapers published in major cities, 182; period of “civilization and enlightenment,” 42; populism of Tokutomi and revulsion for the primacy of politics, 42; railway lines expanded, 182; rapid social changes of, 122, 125; shimada-mage and maru-mage hairstyles, 199; state-initiated reform of customs and manners (fūzoku kairyō) of, 144; Tanaka and heroes such as Saigō Takamori, Ōkuma Shigenobu, and Iwakura Tomomi, 113–114; tyranny of bakufu rule denounced, 136; Western fashions adopted, 177; Westernized government officials equated to wanton self-indulgence and sexual profligacy, 53; women and hakama, 252n116; Yamaji and “pure” heroes to achieve national greatness, 81; youth and materialism, 80
 early Shōwa period (1926–1989), 8, 83, 174, 181
 “Ebicha Shikibu Returning Home after Graduation” (Murasaki Shikibu), 207–208, 208
 Ebisuya Nakakichi (Shinbashi geisha), 172
 Edo, invention of, 12–13, 123–124, 174, 263n5, 263n7

Edo Castle: capture of, 157; Great Incarnation’s (tōshō) occupation of, 151; surrender of, 124, 130, 131, 147
 Edo cultural history, 141
Edo geijutsu ron (The Arts of Edo) (Nagai Kafū), 153
 Edokai, 128, 147, 264n19
Edokai-shi (publication), 128, 149, 264n20–23, 266n61, 266n65
Edokai zasshi (publication), 128
Edo no shumi (magazine), 158
 Edo period (1603–1868): antique stores and exhibitions of artwork, 159; artifacts as souvenirs for modern Japanese, 158–159; backwardness and despotism, 141; backwardness and tastelessness of countryside, 179; cultural memory, 122; culture of everyday life, 18; defeat of the Hōjō (1590), 146; Edo tastes as nostalgic expression of everyday life, 157–158; female beauty known as bijin-ga, 168–169, 173; fūzoku hairstyles and spiritual dimension of culture, 229; geisha and the idea of Edo tastes, 173; geisha as emblems of everyday life in the past, 175; geisha in short-sleeve (kosode) purple kimono and Katsuyama hair style, 169; history, art, and customs, 158; history was mobilized into a populist symbol of the nation, 122; humorous poetry (senryū) and comic storytelling (rakugo), 179; idealization of the Japanese countryside, 18; Japan a “closed country” (sakoku), 13; Jippensha’s Dōchū hizakurige, 67; licensed pleasure quarters, 179; masculine national heroes, 18; national narrative centered on culture, practices, and tastes, 145; nostalgia for the tastes and styles of, 122, 153, 169; parasols, 159; popular fashions and ryūkō, 1; popular fiction (gesaku), 203; popular interest in culture of, 159; prosperity and unique cultural traditions, 141; provincial samurai chided for lack of taste, 179; revival of fashions and styles from, 159; sakoku as a fundamental concept of, 141; social and economic changes transformed the fabric of Japanese society, 239; subtle shadows and dark spaces of, 133; urban commoner (chōnin) culture vs. aristocratic, court-centered traditions of the classical age, 122; valorization of the culture, 18; woodblock (ukiyo-e) masters, 133; woodblock prints, 169; writings of Kuki Shūzō, 153; writings of Togawa, 157
Edo shiseki (The Historical Sites of Edo) (Togawa Zanka (Yasuie)), 156–158, 269n91, 269n93–94, 300
 Edo tastes (Edo shumi), 155–158, 172–173
Eiga no tomo (Friends of the Movies), 224
 “The Eighteenth Brumaire of Louis Bonaparte” (Marx), 7
Eikoku bungaku-shi (A History of British Literature) (Uka Senshi’s (Shibue Tamotsu)), 92–93

Index to: Gender and Nation in Meiji Japan: Modernity, Loss and the Doing of History. Author: Jason G. Karlin.

Indexed by: Clive Pyne Book Indexing <http://www.cpynebookindexing.com>

- Eliade, Mircea, 237–238, 242n10, 280n13, 280n15, 287; Myths, Dreams and Mysteries, 72, 237–238, 242n10, 280n13, 280n15, 287
- Elias, Norbert, 27, 246n25, 287
- Enomoto Takeaki (bakufu loyalist), 76, 124–127, 143, 146, 151, 264n12
- entertainment magazines, 222, 224
- erotogenic zones, 168
- everyday-life culture (seikatsu bunka), 178
- F
- Fabian, Johannes, 178, 271n3, 287
- fads (ryūkō), 1–2, 12, 49, 186, 201, 228, 230
- “false civilization” (nise bunmei), 86
- “famous men” (meibutsu otoko), 105, 106, 107
- “Fashion” (Die Mode) (Simmel), 68, 254n149, 299
- Felman, Shoshana, 20, 245n4, 287
- Felski, Rita, 17, 202, 239, 242n14, 243n13, 244n15, 244n22–23, 245n29, 252n118, 274n48, 275n74, 276n94, 280n20, 287
- female: beauty (bijin-ga), 168–169, 173; body typology, 172; characters’ transgressive sexuality, 204; desire of schoolgirls, 206; desire stimulated by cities, 197; sexual agency fear, 208; sexual desire awakening, 209, 209; sexuality, 5, 210
- Flaubert, Gustave, 209
- folk practices (minzoku), 229
- Forty-Seven Rōnin Incident (1702), 132, 164, 265n32, 299
- Frederick, Sarah, 215, 277n113, 287
- freedom: independence, and resistance, 76; natural rights and, 45; people’s rights and, 43; popular songs and storytelling inspire lower classes, 46; from work, 97
- Freedom and People’s Rights Movement (Jiyū Minken Undō, 1874–1889): about, 246n26, 262n132; adventure novels share antigovernment sentiments, 83; advocated greater representation of the people, 112; antigovernment and anti-Western ideas, 236; antistate political activism, 9; call for democratic political reform, 9; creation of a democratic state, 32; dream of “second Restoration” (dai-ni ishin), 9–10, 115; economic growth jeopardized by social disorder, 183; government identified with hanbatsu politics, 43; government’s failure to revise the “unequal treaties,” 28–29; ideas of liberal democracy and constitutional government, 43; journal Marumaru chinbun, 30–31; Marumaru chinbun political cartoons, 133; Meiji Restoration condemned as corrupt, 236; Meiji state’s restrictions on the press and suppression of free speech, 138; movement for democratization, 183; national Diet to protect the rights of the people, 9, 183; popular protests, 10; Satsuma Rebellion (1877), 236; sōshi (political ruffians), 115; spirit of the bakumatsu-era imperial loyalists, 115; youth from the countryside wanted a new life, 188
- Freeman, Edward A., 81
- Freud, Sigmund, 15, 90, 121, 238–239, 260n94, 280n17, 281n23, 288; “Mourning and Melancholia,” 121, 244n20
- Fritzsche, Peter, 2, 241, 241n5, 288
- “Fūdo” (Climate) (Watsuji Tetsurō), 230
- Fujita Mokichi (bunmei-shi historian), 137–138
- Fukuchi Gen’ichirō (political editor), 124, 142–144, 266n54, 270n109, 288; Bakufu suibō ron (The Decline and Fall of the Tokugawa Bakufu), 142; kabuki play Jitsuroku chūshingura, 164
- Fukumoto Nichinan (journalist), 107–109, 256n18, 261n115–117, 288
- Fukushima Yasumasa (Lieutenant Colonel), 59
- Fukuzawa Yukichi: about, 27, 31, 112, 138, 153–154, 262n128, 288; Bunmeiron no gairyaku (Outline of a Theory of Civilization), 136–137; essay defending Saigō Takamori, 112; Jiji shinpō (Western Living, newspaper/periodical), 50, 53, 149, 161, 246n12, 264n15, 267n67, 283; reporter for Jiji shinpō, 161; Seiyō ishokujū (Western Living), 23; “Yasegaman no Setsu” (On Fighting to the Bitter End), 126–127
- Futon* (The Quilt) (Tayama Katai), 204–205, 275n83, 300
- fūzoku* (manners and customs), 155, 157, 228–229, 263n6
- Fūzoku gahō* (magazine), 182, 247n41, 270n108, 270n122, 272n12, 283
- G
- geisha. See also brothels; café waitresses; Shinbashi geisha; women: arbiters of taste, 162; Ebisuya Nakakichi (Shinbashi geisha), 172; Edo period (1603–1868), 159, 169, 173, 175; eroticization and mapping of geisha’s bodies, 172; flamboyant kimonos, 166; Genroku-era fashions, 161, 163, 163, 163–164, 166, 167, 167, 169; “Genroku geisha” (Yamamoto Matsutani), 163, 166; government officials patronizing, 28; government sanctioned prostitution, 29; guidebook of Tokyo-area geisha, 172; high-collar gentlemen, 49; Katsuyama hairstyle, 169; from Kōbe, 173; Meiji period (1868–1912), 159, 191; Murata Yakomatsu (Shinbashi geisha), 172–173; picture postcard of Harumoto Manryū, 169–170, 170, 172; restaurants (machiiai), 158; shaped social tastes in early Meiji period, 159; short-sleeve (kosode) purple kimono, 169; source of fashion, 191; twenty most beautiful, 170–171, 171
- gender and nation, 2–3, 14–16, 18
- Genghis Khan, 105
- “Genroku beauty” (Genroku bijin) (Kaburagi Kiyokata), 168–169, 170
- Genroku customs (fūzoku), 167
- Genroku era (1688–1704), 159–169, 269n100, 270n111, 271n140
- Genroku fashions, 161, 163, 165–166, 167

Index to: Gender and Nation in Meiji Japan: Modernity, Loss and the Doing of History. Author: Jason G. Karlin.Indexed by: Clive Pyne Book Indexing <http://www.cpynebookindexing.com>

- “Genroku geisha” (Yamamoto Matsutani), 163, 166
 Genroku Study Group (Genroku Kenkyūkai), 164–165
Genroku sugata bijin no anrui (The Silent Tears of a Genroku Beauty) (play), 163
 Genyōsha (Dark Ocean Society), 47
 Gibbon, Edward, 142
 Giddens, Anthony, 6, 242n15, 288
 Gillis, John R., 129, 264n24, 289
 Gilmore, David D., 25n61, 96, 276n95, 289
 Ginza reconstruction, 152–153
 Girls Higher School Order (Kōtō jogakō rei) (1899), 195
 Girl’s Youth Association Federation, 192
 Gluck, Carol, 32, 242n2, 243n6, 248, 263n5, 289
 Gondō Seikyō, 213
 Goode, Erich, 185, 272n15, 289
 “good wife, wise mother” (ryōsai kenbo), 5, 97–98, 195, 205, 207, 214, 260n85, 301
 Gotō Shōjirō, 25, 249n60
 Great Incarnation (tōshō), 149–151, 266n62 guidebooks: Bōken ryōkō-jutsu (adventuring), 66; history and sights of Tokyo, 156–157; student (yūgaku annai), 200–202, 206; Tokugawa period, 156; Tokyo-area geisha, 172
 Guizot, Francois, 136
- H
- Hagiwara Hatsuno (character), 197, 197, 204
 hairstyle: bob (danpatsu), 191; fūzoku, 229; Katsuyama, 169; maru-mage, 199; shimada-mage, 199; sokuhatsu, 191, 199, 274n61; traditional Japanese, 199, 274n61
 Hall, Stuart, 177, 289
 Harootunian, Harry D., 236, 242n11, 244n16, 279n4, 279n144, 289
 Harris Treaty. See Treaty of Amity and Commerce Between the United States and Japan (Harris Treaty)
 Harumoto Manryū, 169–172, 171
 Hasegawa Nyozeikan (intellectual), 175, 271n140, 271n142, 289
 Hebdige, Dick, 46, 250n91, 290
 Heian court aristocracy, 181
 Hekketsu-kai (The Green-Blooded Society), 127
 Heller, Agnes, 122–123, 263n8, 290 hero (heroes). See also valorization: “Bōken Sekai Reader’s Choice—The Ranking of the World’s Heroes,” 105, 106, 106f2.4; communicate gender difference and sexuality to male children, 100; defiance of Meiji state in the Satsuma Rebellion, 110; demonstrate their mastery over women, 101; “greatest heroes of all time” (kokon no eiyū), 105; On Heroes, Hero-Worship, and the Heroic in History (Carlyle), 77, 256n17, 256n27–28, 285; “heroes and troubled times” (eiyū to fū’un), 107, 108; heroism and moral character, 80; hero worship (eiyūron), 74, 80, 105–114 (See also Oshikawa Shunrō); of history symbolized defiance of convention and spiritual domination, 80; “Japanese Heroes of Their Time” (Jidai daihyō Nihon eiyū-den), 79–80; “Japanese Heroes of Their Time” (Jidai daihyō Nihon eiyū-den) (Yamaji Aizan), 79–80; of Japanese history, 79–82, 107, 110; male heroism and punishment of women, 88; masculine heroes in popular culture, 255n2; masculine heroes vs. Western imperialism, 85; masculine national heroes, 18; media instilled national pride and promoted wartime heroism, 86; militarized masculinity and bare-chested muscular hero, 64, 64; myths of heroes, 83, 252n129; popular biographies of heroes, 116; samurai spirit and national heroes, 4; Tanaka and heroes such as Saigō Takamori, Ōkuma Shigenobu, and Iwakura Tomomi, 113–114; worship (eiyūron), 74, 80, 105–114; Yamaji and “pure” heroes to achieve national greatness, 81 high-collar (haikara): fashions, 47, 50, 165, 199; party (haikara-tō), 48; schoolgirl of the Meiji period, 15
 High Treason Incident (1910), 38, 262n132, 277n110
 Hirata Atsutane (scholar), 139
 Hirose Takeo (Lieutenant), 113
 Hirota Masaki (historian), 69, 254n150, 290
 Hishikawa Moronobu (woodblock (ukiyo-e) master), 133, 168
History of Japan (Kaempfer), 138–140
Hōchi shinbun (popular guide), 50, 53, 83, 138, 283
 Hōjō Tokimune, 105, 146
 Honda Kinkichirō (Western-style artist), 31–32, 36
 Honda Satsuki (NHK director), x
 Honda Toshiaki, 139
 Horaguchi Hokugai (scholar), 198–200, 274n59, 274n62–63, 290
 Horkheimer, Max, 231, 279n146, 284
 Hoshi Tōru, 45, 250n83–84
 Hozumi Yatsuka (constitutional scholar), 114 humorous poetry (senryū), 179
 Huysen, Andreas, 4, 242n13, 244n18, 252n118
- I
- idealization of the countryside, 17, 225–226
le no hikari (Light of the Home), 216–221, 221, 222, 223, 224–226, 226, 273n38, 277n116–117, 278n119, 278n121, 278n125, 278n127
 Ihara Saikaku, 163
 Ii Naosuke, 111, 119
Ijin kyōfu den (A Report on the Foreign Terror) (Kurosawa Okinamaro), 140
 Ikku Jippensha: Dōchū hizakurige, 67
 Imperial Diet (1890), 9, 47, 114, 117, 181, 183, 243n7, 245n10
 imperial rule (ousei fukko), 115–117
 Inagaki Kyōko, 208, 276n91, 290
 industrial cooperatives (sangyō kumiai), 217–219
 Industrial Cooperatives Law (Sangyō Kumiai Hō) (1900), 217, 219
 Inoue Junnosuke, 119

Index to: Gender and Nation in Meiji Japan: Modernity, Loss and the Doing of History. Author: Jason G. Karlin.Indexed by: Clive Pyne Book Indexing <http://www.cpynebookindexing.com>

- Inoue Kaoru (foreign minister), 24–29, 36, 152, 246n17, 246n22, 246n26, 249n60, 290
 Inoue Nissshō (Buddhist priest), 119
 Ishikawa Takuboku (poet), 165, 270n118, 291
 Ishikawa Tengai (educator), 211, 276n96, 291;
Tōkyōgaku (Tokyo Learning), 211, 276n96–97, 291
 Ishikawa Yasujirō (Hanzan) (journalist), 47, 250–251n93
 Isobe Asaichi, 117–118
 Itagaki Kuniko (historian), 225, 278n128, 291
 Itagaki Taisuke, 25, 42, 46, 246n19, 248–249n60.
See also Jiyūtō (Liberal Party)
 Itō Hirobumi (Prime Minister), 24, 28, 36, 47–49, 112, 126, 247n27, 249n60, 251n93
 Iwakura Tomomi, 24, 113
 Iwamoto Zenji (editor of Jogaku zasshi), 29, 214, 247n32; Jogaku zasshi (Women's Learning Magazine), 29, 76, 214, 217, 283
 Iwano Hōmei (author), 54
 Iwasa Katsumochi (Matabē) (woodblock (ukiyo-e) master), 133
 Iwasaki Yanosuke, 146
 Iwaya Sazanami, 51, 53, 251n108
 Izumi Kyōka, 238
- J
 Japanese cultural identity, 174, 232
 “Japanese Heroes of Their Time” (Jidai daihyō Nihon eiyū-den) (Yamaji Aizan), 79–80
 Japanese national identity, 10–11, 58, 233, 239
 Japan Fine Arts Association (Nihon Bijutsu Kyōkai), 147
Japan Punch (comic magazine), 31
Jiji shinpō (Western Living, newspaper/periodical), 50, 53, 149, 161, 246n12, 264n15, 267n67, 283
 Jinno Yuki, 161–162, 269n102, 291
Jitsuroku chūshingura (Fukuchi Gen'ichirō), 164
 Jiyū Minken Undō, 28. See Freedom and People's Rights Movement (Jiyū Minken Undō)
 Jiyūtō (Liberal Party), 25, 30, 40, 42–43, 45–46, 246n19, 249n60. See also Itagaki Taisuke
Jogaku shinshi (Women's Learning New Journal), 213–214
Jogaku zasshi (Women's Learning Magazine), 29, 76, 214, 217, 283
 Jones, Mark A., 98, 260n84, 260n87–88, 291
- K
 Kabayama Sukenori (education minister), 195
 Kaburagi Kiyokata (artist), 169; “A Genroku Beauty” (Genroku bijin), 170
 Kaempfer, Engelbert, 138–140
kagetsu-mak hairstyle, 191
Kaijin tettō (The Mysterious Creature of the Steel Tower) (Oshikawa Shunrō), 90–91, 91, 92, 101, 258n65, 260n98
Kaitei gunkan (Undersea Battleship) (Oshikawa Shunrō), 103, 261n101–102, 297
 Kanbun period (1661–1673), 168
 Kaneko Kentarō (government official), 47
Kanrin-maru (ship), 126–127
 Karatani Kojin, 236–237, 279n5–7, 280n10, 291
 Katō Shūichi, 68, 254n146–147, 292
 Katsuda Magoya, 110
 Katsu Kaishū, 79, 124–125, 131, 257n32, 264n11, 299, 302
 Katsuyama hairstyle, 169
 Kawahara Hiroshi, 136, 265n39, 292
 Kawakatsu Heita, 138, 266n47, 292
 Kawana, Sari, 96, 259n78, 292
 Ketsumeidan Incident, 118, 119
 Kido Takayoshi, 112
 Kikuchi Kan, 223
 Kikuchi Yūhō, 275n82, 297; Onoga tsumi (My Sin), 204, 206, 275n82
 Kimura Kaishū (former bakufu retainer), 125, 128, 142, 146, 150, 157, 264n11, 264n21, 268n82
 Kishigami Shitsuken (former bakufu retainer), 128
 Kita Ikki, 117
 Kitazawa Rakuten (caricaturist). See also Tokyo Puck: about, 37, 50–51, 53, 56; bankara masculinity vs. effeminate high-collar gentleman, 56–57, 57; Cartoon Art Museum (Manga Kaikan) in Saitama, x; “Haikara Kidorō” character (Mr. Pretentious High-Collar), 53; “High-Collar Puck,” 51; Marumaru chinbun, 38; “Mr. High Collar’s Toilet,” 51, 52; parable of “forbidden fruit” as an allegory for awakening of female sexual desire, 209, 209; Sunday edition of Jiji shinpō, 53; “The Latest Fashions: Mitsukoshi Clothing Store’s Genroku Style and High-collar Western Clothes,” 167–168, 168; Tokyo Puck, “student issue” of, 206–207; virtue of bankara masculinity vs. effeminate high-collar gentleman, 56–57, 57; “What parents at home think and what their children studying in Tokyo are doing,” 206, 206–207
 Klein, Melanie, 99–100, 255n4, 260n91, 292
 Kobayashi Kiyochika (artist): about, x, 36, 132–136, 248n54, 265n38; kōsenga style, 133; “Monkeys are busy putting up a new play,” 36–37, 37; “View inside Ueno Park,” 134, 134–135; woodblock prints, 135
Kokkei shinbun: about, 270n117, 276n87, 276n89–90; “Corrupt Manners (daraku fūzoku): Today’s effeminate schoolboys and boyish schoolgirls,” 198, 198; “The Current Pastime of Schoolgirls,” 207, 207; “Ebicha Shikibu Returning Home after Graduation,” 207–208, 208
Kokumin no tomo (Tokutomi Sohō), 75–76, 142, 249n70, 252n121, 252n125, 283
 Kokuryūkai (Amur River Society), 47, 262n126, 292
 Komatsu Midori, 47, 53
Kosode maku Genroku moyō (The Short-Sleeved Kimono Genroku Pattern) (kabuki), 163
 Kosugi Tengai: Makaze koikaze (Demon Winds Love Winds), 197, 197, 203–204, 275n77

Index to: Gender and Nation in Meiji Japan: Modernity, Loss and the Doing of History. Author: Jason G. Karlin.Indexed by: Clive Pyne Book Indexing <http://www.cpynebookindexing.com>

- Kōtokukan (office in Kyōbashi), 45
 Kōtoku Shusui (antistate philosophy), 38–39, 114–115, 117, 262n131–132
 Kropotkin, Peter (anarchist philosopher), 115
 Kuga Katsunan, 40, 42, 75; Nihon (newspaper), 75
 Kuga Kyūkō (Yoshinao) (former samurai), 111–112, 262n125
 Kume Kunitake (historian), 76, 267n74
 Kurimoto Jōun, 126–128, 143, 264n18; journal Kyūbakufu (Old Shogunate), 143–144
 Kuroita Katsumi (historian), 141–142, 266n53
 Kurosawa Okinamaro, 140, 266n51, 293; Ijin kyōfu den (A Report on the Foreign Terror), 140
 Kusaka Gensui, 118
Kyūbakufu (Old Shogunate) (Kurimoto Jōun), 143–144
- L land tax reform (1872), 152
 late Meiji period, 200–201, 242n2, 243n7, 247n31, 248n43, 253n135, 254n145, 277n111. See also Meiji period later Taishō period, 83
 late Tokugawa period, 9, 156, 264n25, 290
 Latour, Bruno, 235, 279n2, 293
 Lefebvre, Henri, 12, 13, 123, 175, 243n14, 264n9, 271n143, 293
 Le Rider, Jacques, 70, 254n153
 lost unity (jouissance) of mother and infant, 239
 Lowenthal, David, 155, 268n85, 293
- M
 Macaroni, 21, 245n5
 Macaulay, Thomas (historian), 48
Madame Bovary (Flaubert), 209
 Maeda Ai, 26, 31, 133, 246n21, 247n30, 247n39, 265n34, 293
 Maejima Hisoka (former bakufu retainer), 128, 182
Makaze koikaze (Demon Winds Love Winds) (Kosugi Tengai), 197, 197, 203–204, 275n77 manners and customs (fūzoku), 155, 157, 228–229
maru-mage hairstyle, 199
Marumarū chinbun (satirical journal): about, 30–31, 36, 38, 114, 248n53, 283; “The Dressing Room for the Monkey Performance,” 36; “The Howl of the People’s Rights Party,” 34; Kobayashi Kiyochika, 132–133; “A model of female high-collar,” 55; “Monkeys are busy putting up a new play,” 37; “Wherever he turns there is a wild beast staring him in the face,” 33
 Marx, Karl, 7, 293
 Marxist notion of “the epidemic of overproduction,” 231
 Matsudaira Sadanobu (shogunal official), 139
 Matsumoto Kunpei, 47–48
 Matsumoto Sannosuke (historian), 42
 Matsuoka Zenjirō, 118
 Matsuo Shōichi (historian), 43, 250n77, 294
 Matsushima Ei’ichi (historian), 138, 266n46, 294
 Meiji Constitution (1889), 32, 114, 151, 267n69, 267n74
 Meiji period (1868–1912). See also early Meiji period; Edo period; late Meiji period; middle Meiji period: adventure novels/magazines, 60, 66–67, 74, 83–89; antique stores and exhibitions, 159; artists critical of Meiji state policies, 38; “backwardness” of village life, 179; caricature, 34, 34–35, 70; cartoonists and comic potential in contradictions of modern life, 50–53; country folk called akagetto (red blankets), 181; cultural nationalists and politics, 42; culture of everyday life, 11, 13, 18, 121, 123, 166, 174–176; “The Current Pastime of Schoolgirls,” 207, 207; customs and manners, 228–230; decadence, superficiality, and bureaucratism, 42; dress of government officials, 22; dress of Japanese gentleman and “high-collar” (haikara), 22, 47–50; elitist consumers, 215; eroticization of the past, 166–174; etiquette books, 23, 50; former bakufu retainers and Edo cultural preservation movements, 124–125; frugality and discipline, 38; geisha and prostitutes shaped social tastes, 159; geisha as source of fashion, 191; gender ambivalence/sexual ambiguities, 198, 198; “good wife, wise mother” (ryōsai kenbo), 97, 205, 207, 214, 260n85, 301; guidebooks on history and sights of Tokyo, 156–157; hero worship (eiūron), 74, 80, 105–114 (See also Oshikawa Shunrō); “high-collar” (haikara) schoolgirl of, 15; historical biographies, 74, 105; historical writings and commemorative movements of, 11; imperial ceremonies and state rituals, 129; individual acts of political violence, 115–120; Japanese gentleman and “feminized” masculinity, 70; Japanese gentlemen as elitist consumers, 55; Japanese government and lifestyle of the European gentleman, 19; Japanese men represented alienation and loss of union with the idealized image, 5; kagetsu-maki hairstyle, 191; Kan’eiiji restored, 130–131; Kiyochika’s kōsenga style, 133–136; legacy of the Tokugawa bakufu, 143; masculinity in the student culture, 62, 62–63; material decadence and corruption of state, 81; maternal society (bosei shakai) in the postwar period, 16; Meiji Restoration histories (Meiji ishin shi), 142–143; middle-class mothering practices, 97–102; militarist state of the early Shōwa period, 8; modern memory of Edo, 145; modern press antagonism, 30; monkey imitation, 36, 36–37; “national seclusion,” 138–142; nostalgic longing for continuity and return, 2; novelty, artifice, and ephemerality of Western material civilization, 71; patronage, protection, and privileges, 183; people’s victimization by the state, 8; population of Tokyo, 187–188; railway lines and transmission of information, 182; religious and sacred function of shrines, 130; resistance to

Index to: Gender and Nation in Meiji Japan: Modernity, Loss and the Doing of History. Author: Jason G. Karlin.Indexed by: Clive Pyne Book Indexing <http://www.cpynebookindexing.com>

- state authority, 8; resistance to Western cultural hegemony, 10; revival of interest in history and the traditional arts, 122; revival of tastes of the Edo period, 121; ryūkō and popular fashions, 1; schoolboys, 198, 198, 207; schoolgirl culture, 208; schoolgirl iconography, 198–199; schoolgirl in maroon-colored hakama, 197, 197–198; schoolgirl in popular novels, degenerate, 208; schoolgirls, gender ambivalent, 199; schoolgirls, transgressive social world of, 203; schoolgirls and “high-collar pompadour” (haikara hisashigami), 54; schoolgirls lost their “feminine character” (joshi-taru honryō), 198; schoolgirls with sokuhatsu hairstyle, 199; Shōgōtai resistance to the Meiji state, 132; social and cultural transformation, 121; state authority invoked popular nationalism and a narrow Japanese national identity, 11; state-initiated reform of customs and manners (fūzoku kairyō), 144; state promoted modernization of Japanese society, 121; student culture, 47, 57–58; Tokugawa popular culture, 38; transformations in everyday life, 164; tyranny of bakufu rule, 136; values of character and self-restraint, 198; Westernization, 1; women and “high-collar,” 54; women as symbols of the nation, 5; women as victims of ritualized violence, 89–97; women’s education subverted ideas of sexual difference based on clothing and appearance, 197–198; women’s magazine Jogaku shinshi (Women’s Learning New Journal), 213–214; women’s magazines, 213–214; youthful dissipation and anxiety, 57; youth rebellion, 57
- Meiji Restoration (1868–1912): battles of Toba-Fushimi, 124; ceremonies and memorials for those resisting imperial forces, 131; corruption of original goals of, 236; Edo became seat of national government and residence of the emperor, 187; Edo tastes defined by Tokugawa rule, 157; Fujita Mokichi writings, 137–138; Fukuchi Gen’ichirō’s Bakufu suibō ron (The Decline and Fall of the Tokugawa Bakufu), 142–143; heroism and defiance of Meiji state in the Satsuma Rebellion, 110; historical narrativization of, 116; idea of return to imperial rule (ousei fukko), 115; ideology of imperial loyalism, 68; importation of Western civilization, 155; individual acts of political violence, 116; Kiyochika’s writings, 136; Meiji state adopted policy of Westernization, 68; myth of, 235; myth of imperial direct rule, 235; novelty and change of Westernization, 1; overthrow of Tokugawa shogunate, 68; political assassinations, 111–112, 115–116, 115–119, 118–119; popular biographies of heroes, 116; population of Japan, 187; radical political action, 9–10; resistance of bakufu loyalists, 124, 143; revival of the emperor’s direct rule, 236; “second Restoration” (dai-ni ishin), 115; Seikyōsha (Society for Political Education), 144; Shōwa Restoration of the 1930s, 115, 236, 242n1; sōshi revolutionaries sought to reclaim the spirit of the past, 43; state manipulation of the masses, 7; state power and people’s rights broadened, 9; symbol of political action, 236; Tokugawa house deposed in, 150; Tokugawa period, 128; Westernization process, 1
- Meiji Taishō-shi, sesō-hen* (Yanagita Kunio), 228, 278n135, 278n140, 279n145
- men of high purpose (shishi), 43, 114–116, 118 “Messianic time,” 2
- Messner, Michael, 73, 255n7, 294
- middle Meiji period. See also Meiji period: commercialization of tradition, 159; fashion of Japanese gentleman, 55–56; high-collar was associated with leaders of Meiji state, 47; Japanese cultural uniqueness, 122; revival of interest in history and traditional arts, 122; rise of affluent class of collectors, 159
- Mikawayama Kōsaborō, 132
- Miki Kiyoshi (philosopher): about, 74, 84, 110, 255n9, 257n46, 262n121, 294; “Greater East Asian Co-Prosperty Sphere,” 84
- Minami Hiroshi (Japanese historian), 215, 277n111, 294
- Minamoto no Tametomo, 79
- Minamoto Yoritomo, 79, 257n31, 302
- Minowa Tamaki (schoolgirl character), 204
- Min’yūsha (Friends of the Nation) (publishing group), 41–42, 75, 76, 251n96–97, 255n11, 256n18, 257n34
- Min’yūsha scholars, 175
- Mishima Yukio, 240
- Mitchell, W. J. T., 35, 248n45–46, 294
- Miyake Setsurei, 144, 251n94, 251n101, 266n57; about, 40, 42, 49, 65–66, 251n94, 251n101, 266n57, 276n89, 294; Seikyōsha (Society for Political Education), 40, 144; Shinzenbi Nihonjin (The Japanese: Truth, Goodness, and Beauty), 65, 66
- Miyamoto Keisen, 50, 251n106, 294
- Miyatake Gaikotsu (caricaturist), 37, 54–55, 207; “The Current Pastime of Schoolgirls,” 207, 207; Ōsaka kokkei shinbun (magazine), 54–55, 56
- Miyazaki Shigekichi (Niroku shinbun reporter), 67, 254n143, 294
- Miyazawa Sei’ichi (historian), 9, 243n8, 262, 295
- Mochizuki Kotarō, 48
- Momoi Kyūzō, 132
- monkey performances (saru mawashi), 35–36
- Mori Ōgai (author), 93
- Motoyama Yukihiko (historian), 39, 249n61–62, 249n64, 253n140, 295
- “Mourning and Melancholia” (Freud), 121, 244n20
- Murakami Toshizō (Dakurō) (editor-in-chief of Tanken sekai), 66–67, 253n141; Bōken ryōkō-jutsu (guidebook on adventuring), 66; Tanken sekai (Exploration World), 66
- Murasaki Shikibu, 207–208, 208

Index to: Gender and Nation in Meiji Japan: Modernity, Loss and the Doing of History. Author: Jason G. Karlin.Indexed by: Clive Pyne Book Indexing <http://www.cpynebookindexing.com>

- Murata Yakomatsu (Shinbashi geisha), 172–173 mythology: of “eternal feminine” who embody “everything that modernity was not,” 16 myths: of ancestors, 238; of eternal return, 238, 240, 242n10; of heroes, 83, 252n129; of the imperial family, 213; of Meiji Restoration, 235; that Edo period was a “closed country” (sakoku), 13
Myths, Dreams and Mysteries (Eliade), 72, 237–238, 242n10, 280n13, 280n15, 287
- N
- Nagai Kafū (novelist): about, 136, 153–156, 184, 268–269n86–90, 268n78–83, 272n13, 277n111, 295; Edo geijutsu ron (The Arts of Edo), 153; first period (1868–1877), 155; Kōcha no ato (After Tea), 154–155; second period (1878–1894), 155; third period (1899–1904), 155
 Nakae Chōmin: about, 30, 43, 46, 247n35, 250n79, 295; San Suijin Keirin Mondō (A Discourse by Three Drunkards on Government), 46, 250n88, 295
 Napier, Susan, 238–239, 244n26, 280n18, 295
 Narushima Haruo (explorer character), 90, 91
 Narushima Ryūhoku, 125
 National Learning (kokugaku) scholars, 139–140, 236
 national polity (kokutai), 117, 184, 211, 213
 Natsume Sōseki, 238
 “New Conservative Party” (shin-hoshutō), 40
Nichiro sensō jikki (journal), 77
Nichiro sensō shashin gahō (Russo-Japanese War Photograph Pictorial) magazine, 60
Nihon (newspaper), 75
Nihon kaika shōshi (A Short History of Japanese Enlightenment) (Taguchi Ukichi), 137
 Nikkō Tōshōgū Shrine, 147
 Nishi Amane, 137
 Nitobe Inazō, 65, 253n136
Nōka no tomo (The Farmer’s Friend) magazine, 219
 Nomura Fumio (founder of Marumaru chinbun), 31, 36, 248n53
 Nora, Pierre, 121, 263n2, 296
 Norman, E. H., 7, 8, 242n1, 296
Nōson jichi no kenkyū (Studies on the Autonomy of Agricultural Villages) (Yamazaki Nobuyoshi), 211–213
 Novel Kaitei hōkutsu (The Ocean Bottom Treasure Grotto) (Oshikawa Shunrō), 88–89, 258n58
 Numa Morikazu, 125
- O
- Ōbayashi Munetsugu, 191, 273n33, 296
 object of desire, 12, 210, 239, 257n29
 Oedipal power, 240
 Ogata Kōan, 31
 Ogawa Sugita (Okisato), 131–132
 Ōi Kentarō, 45
 Okano Chijū (haiku poet), 165, 270n120
 Oka Toshirō (historian), 76, 255–256n12, 256n13, 296
 Ōkawa Shūmei (right-wing militarist intellectual), 84, 257n45, 296
 Ōkubo Tadahiro (governor), 125, 131
 Ōkubo Toshimichi (home minister), 110, 111, 116
 Okuma Shigenobu, 25, 42, 102, 113, 152, 251n93
 Ōmura Masujirō, 129, 268n84
On Heroes, Hero-Worship, and the Heroic in History (Carlyle), 77, 256n17, 256n27–28, 285
Onoga tsumi (My Sin) (Kikuchi Yūhō), 204, 206, 275n82
 Ooms, Herman, 147, 266n63, 296
 Opium War in China, 140
Ōsaka asahi shinbun (newspaper), 59, 276n93, 283
Ōsaka kokkei shinbun (magazine), 54–55, 56
 Oshikawa Masayoshi, 102
 Oshikawa Shunrō (editor-in-chief of Bōken sekai): about, 60–66, 83–85, 102–103; adventure novel Kaijin tettō (The Mysterious Creature of the Steel Tower), 90–91, 91, 92, 101, 258n65, 260n98; author of sixty adventure and hero novels, 60, 83; “Bōken Sekai Reader’s Choice—The Ranking of the World’s Heroes,” 105, 106f2.4; boy’s adventure magazine Bōken sekai, 60, 64, 66–67, 83–84 (See also Bōken sekai (Adventure World)); decadence of Western mass culture and worship of actors, 107; “false civilization” (nise bunmei), 86; “famous men” (meibutsu otoko), 105, 106, 107; “greatest heroes of all time” (kokon no eiyū), 105; “heroes and troubled times” (ei-yū to fū’un), 107, 108; hero worship, 105, 107; Kaitei gunkan (Undersea Battleship), 103, 261n101–102, 297; masculine heroes vs. Western imperialism, 85; Nichiro sensō shashin gahō (Russo-Japanese War Photograph Pictorial) magazine, 62; novel Kaitei hōkutsu (The Ocean Bottom Treasure Grotto), 88–89, 258n58; novel Tessha oukoku (Iron Car Kingdom), 85; novel with Japanese battleship Unebi, 85; read Robert Louis Stevenson and Jules Verne, 103; Sennen-go no sekai (The World 1,000 Years Hereafter), 102; Shin Nihon-tō (The New Japanese Archipelago), 85, 104
 Ōtori Keisuke (bakufu loyalist), 124, 143
Outline Plan for the Reorganization of Japan (Nihon Kaizō Hōan Taikō) (Kita Ikki), 117
- P
- The Painter of Modern Life* (Baudelaire), 1
 Peace Preservation Law (Chian iji hō), 184
 Peace Preservation Ordinance (1887), 43
 Perry, Matthew C. (Commodore), 139–140, 143 political assassinations, 111–112, 115–116, 118–119 political ruffians (sōshi), 42–44, 44, 45–47, 59, 115, 208, 250n86, 250n90 post-Restoration period, 152
 “practical lifestyle articles” (purakuteikaruna seikatsu kiji), 225

Index to: Gender and Nation in Meiji Japan: Modernity, Loss and the Doing of History. Author: Jason G. Karlin.Indexed by: Clive Pyne Book Indexing <http://www.cpynebookindexing.com>

- pre-Oedipal union with body of the mother as an object of desire and identification, 172, 210, 238–239
- Press Law (1909) (Shinbunshi jōrei), 183
- prostitutes. See also café waitresses; women: about, 86, 189, 192; in Genroku-era fashions, 159; girls sold into prostitution by their families, 192; for Japan's urban brothels, 192; portraits of, 150; in Tokyo, 192, 273n39; from Yamagata prefecture, 194; youth from villages, 193
- Punch* (comic magazine), 31
- R
- Ravina, Mark, 110, 262n122, 297
- Reiss, Ludwig (professor), 141–142
- Ricoeur, Paul, 81–82, 256n23, 257n41–44, 297
- Robertson, Rolland, 226–227, 278n131, 297
- Roden, Donald, 57, 90, 198, 252n122, 258n62, 274n60, 297
- Rokumeikan, 25–28, 40, 42, 246n17, 246n20
- Rokumeikan dance party, 36–37, 37
- Rokumeikan era (1883–1887), 24, 36–37
- Russo-Japanese War (1904–1905). See also Bōken sekai (Adventure World): adventure novel Shin kaitai ryokō (New Travels on the Bottom of the Sea), 86, 93–94, 96, 258m 55, 259n69–70, 301; boys' adventure magazines, 59–60, 83; collective will of the Japanese nation, 161; cooperative unions expanded, 217; department stores and fashion trends, 162; economic crisis in the countryside after, 189, 217, 272n14; Edo tastes and Western civilization, 155–156; flamboyant kimonos, 166; geisha in Genroku-era fashions, 166; hero myths, 83, 252n129; Japanese youths admired and worshiped idealized images of adventurous Japanese males, 59; Japan's victories and heightened national consciousness, 160; mass celebrations of military victories, 160; media instilled national pride and promoted wartime heroism, 86; Meiji youth rejected ideas of civilization, 58; nationalism and spread of urban newspapers and magazines, 183; nationalism celebrated defiance of state authority, 113; new clothing styles, 161; Nichiro sensō jikki (journal), 77; sokuhatsu hairstyle were popular among women, 191
- S
- Sade, Marquis de, 92
- Said, Edward, 85
- Saigō Takamori, 76, 85, 104–105, 107–113, 118, 257n31, 261n113
- Saionji Kinmochi (government official), 47
- Saitō Shun, 132
- San Suijin Keirin Mondō* (A Discourse by Three Drunkards on Government) (Nakae Chōmin), 46, 250n88, 295
- Sassa Seisetsu (Edo scholar), 158
- Satō Nobuhiro, 139
- Satsuma and Chōshū (hanbatsu), 11, 24, 25, 30
- Satsuma-Chōshū: advisors, 123; alliance, 124; coalition, 125; monopoly on political power, 43
- Satsuma Rebellion (1877), 85, 104, 107, 110, 112, 155, 158, 236
- schoolboys, 198, 198, 207
- schoolgirls: “Corrupt Manners (daraku fūzoku): Today's effeminate schoolboys and boyish schoolgirls,” 198, 198; “The Current Pastime of Schoolgirls,” 207, 207; female desire of schoolgirls, 206; gender ambivalent, 199; “high-collar pompadour” (haikara hisashigami), 54; lost their “feminine character” (joshi-taru honryō), 198; with sokuhatsu hairstyle, 199; transgressive social world of, 203
- “science of folklore” (minzokugaku), 231
- “second Restoration” (dai-ni ishin), 9–10, 40, 115, 118, 249n68
- Seeley, John Robert, 81
- Seiji shōsetsu ōunabara* (Suehiro Tetchō), 83
- Seikyōsha (Society for Political Education), 40, 144
- Seiyō ishokujū* (Western Living) (Fukuzawa Yukichi), 23
- Sekai no Nippon* (Worldly Japan), 48
- self-service displays, 181–182
- Sennen-go no sekai* (The World 1,000 Years Hereafter) (Oshikawa Shunrō), 102
- sexual identity, 168
- sexuality. See also brothels; café waitresses (jokyū): castration; prostitutes: awakening of female sexual desire, 209, 209; dress and sexual identity, 168; fantasies of male sexual objectification and punishment, 205; fear of female sexual agency, 208; female characters' transgressive sexuality, 204; female sexuality, 5, 210; heroes communicate gender difference and sexuality to male children, 100; heterosexual love as a decadent expression of individualism, 101; male sexual awakening, 89; nonphallic sexuality of the monster, 89; novels sensationalized schoolgirl's sexuality, 204; patriarchal domination of women or oppression of the sexual other, 210; rumors of infidelities and sexual escapades, 28; self-indulgence and sexual profligacy of early Meiji period, 53; sexual abandonment, 210; sexual ambiguities of the Taishō period, 198; sexual and moral debasement of women, 102; sexual difference based on clothing and appearance, 198, 198; sexualized representations and female desire of schoolgirls, 206; sexual misconduct allegations against Itō, 29; sexual objectification of women, 191; urban magazines and frank discussions of sexuality, 219
- Shibue Chūsai, 93
- Shibue Tamotsu. See Uka Senshi's (Shibue Tamotsu)
- Shibusawa Eichī, 146

Copyrighted Material

Index to: Gender and Nation in Meiji Japan: Modernity, Loss and the Doing of History. Author: Jason G. Karlin.

Indexed by: Clive Pyne Book Indexing <http://www.cpynebookindexing.com>

- Shigeno Yasutsugu (historian), 76, 267n74
Shimada Ichirō, 111–112, 116
shimada-mage hairstyle, 199
Shimazaki Ryū (artist), 169, 271n1
Shimura Gentarō, 218–219, 277n118
Shimbashi geisha. See also geisha: about, 161, 166–167, 167, 172–174; enacting (fun suru), 167, 167; Murata Yakomatsu (Shimbashi geisha), 172–173
Shimbashi Geisha Teahouse Association, 174
Shindō Masahiro, 204, 275n79, 298
Shin kaitei ryokō (New Travels on the Bottom of the Sea) (Uka Senshi's (Shibue Tamotsu)), 86, 93–94, 96, 258m 55, 259n69–70, 301
“Shin-Makaze koikaze” (New Demon Winds), 203, 275n78
Shin Nihon no seinen (Youth of the New Japan) (Tokutomi Sohō), 42
Shin Nihon-tō (The New Japanese Archipelago)(Oshikawa Shunrō), 85, 104 Shinto, 180
Shinzenbi Nihonjin (The Japanese: Truth, Goodness, and Beauty) (Miyake Setsurei), 65, 66
shishi (men of high purpose), 43, 114–116, 118
Shizuki Tadao (scholar), 139–140
Shōwa Restoration (Shōwa ishin), 115, 117, 119, 236
Silverberg, Miriam, 190, 242n11, 273n31, 298
Silverman, Kaja, 168, 270n123, 298–299
Simmel, Georg, 68–69, 184–185; “Fashion” (Die Mode), 68, 254n149, 299
Sino-Japanese War (1894–1895), 59, 75, 86, 108, 110, 133, 155, 199
Smith, Anthony D., 21, 245n6–7, 299
Smith II, Henry D., 132, 157, 265n27, 265n32–33, 265n37, 269n92, 273n22, 299 social conditions of the life of the nation (kokumin seikatsu no sesō), 229 social Darwinism, 61, 154
social practices and customs (fūzoku kairyō), 144, 159, 220, 263n6
Soeda Azenbō (songwriter), 43, 158, 250n80, 299
sokuhatsu hairstyle, 191, 199, 274n61
Solomon-Godeau, Abigail, 20, 245n1, 245n3, 299 songs (ryūkō-ka), 2
sōshi (political ruffians), 42–44, 44, 45–47, 59, 115, 208, 250n86, 250n90
Steele, M. William, 132, 264n11, 264n16, 265n31, 266n66
Stevenson, Robert Louis, 103
Stewart, Susan, 16, 159, 244n24, 269n96, 271n129, 299 student guidebooks (yūgaku annai), 200–202, 206 study of manners and customs (fūzokugaku), 229
Suehiro Tetchō (journalist): about, 40–41, 83, 249n67; Seiji shōsetsu ōunabara, 83
Symbolic order, 239–240
- T
Tachibana Kōzaburō, 213
Taguchi Ukichi, 137, 146
Taishō period (1912–1926), 177–178, 191, 198, 202, 215, 277n111
Takahashi Yoshio, 161–162, 246n13, 270n103–105, 300
Takano Chōei, 138
Takashi Fujitani, 145, 161–162, 243n4, 266n59, 276n107, 288
Takasugi Shinsaku, 118
Takekoshi Takeyo (first female reporter), 48, 251n96
Takekoshi Yosaburō, 48, 53, 81, 251n96–97; Sekai no Nippon (Worldly Japan), 48
Taki Kōji, 150, 267n69, 267n72, 300
Takuma, Dan, 119
The Tale of Genji, 181
Tamanoi, Mariko, 97, 260n81, 300
Tamenaga Shunsui, 229
Tanaka, Stefan, 3, 241n2, 241n9, 300
Tanaka Hozumi (professor), 113, 114, 262n129–130
Tanaka Ryō (artist), 223
Tani Kanjō (Minister of agriculture and commerce), 39, 40, 249n60–63, 250n93
Tanizaki Junichirō, 238
Tanken sekai (Exploration World), 66, 67, 253n141, 283
Tayama Katai, 300; Futon (The Quilt), 204–205, 275n83, 300
Tessha oukoku (Iron Car Kingdom) (Oshikawa Shunrō), 85
Toba-Fushimi battles, 124, 130, 132, 248n54
Todorov, Tzvetan, 208–209, 276n92, 300
Togawa Zanka (Yasuie): about, 143–144, 266n55–56, 300; Bakumatsu shōshi (A Short History of the Last Days of the Tokugawa Shogunate), 143–144, 266n55–56, 300; Edo shiseki (The Historical Sites of Edo), 156–158, 269n91, 269n93–94, 300; Genroku Study Group (Genroku Kenkyūkai), 164–165
Tokugawa: bakufu, 124, 126–128, 130, 139, 142–144, 155, 263n7; family, 131, 146; house, 124, 125, 150; Ieyasu, 79, 105, 122, 145, 147–151, 257n32, 266n64, 268n84, 302; shogunate, 9, 68, 126, 129, 139, 142–144, 174, 187
Tokugawa Keiki (last shogun), 123, 124, 147, 150
Tokugawa period: bakufu's restrictions on foreign intercourse, 138; bunmei-shi historians and the tyranny of the, 138; court nobles (kuge) and former territorial lords (daimyo), 24; cultural advancement, 129; culture of the Genroku era, 162, 175; customary laws, 272n18; Edokai sought to salvage vestiges of, 128; everyday life in Edo, 128; exchange and foreign trade with other Asian countries, 139; guidebooks, 156; isolationist image of, 139; journal Kyūbakufu (Old Shogunate), 143; legacy was an obstacle to national progress, 137; merchant culture, 175; “nobility” (kazoku), 24; Tokugawa shogunate vs. Westernization, 9, 174–175
Tokutomi Sohō: about, 40–42, 44, 57–58, 80–81, 175, 249n70, 250n82; Kokumin no tomo, 75–

Index to: Gender and Nation in Meiji Japan: Modernity, Loss and the Doing of History. Author: Jason G. Karlin.Indexed by: Clive Pyne Book Indexing <http://www.cpynebookindexing.com>

- 76, 142, 249n70, 252n121, 252n125, 283;
Min'yūsha (Friends of the Nation) (publishing group), 41–42, 75, 76, 251n96–97, 255n11, 256n18, 257n34; “New Conservative Party” (shin-hoshutō), 40; Shin Nihon no seinen (Youth of the New Japan), 42; “spirit of barbarism” (yabanteki genki), 58
- Tokutomi Sohō's Min'yūsha: Kokumin no tomo, 76; Kokumin shinbun, 76
- Tokyo fire (1872), 152
- Tōkyōgaku* (Tokyo Learning) (Ishikawa Tengai), 211, 276n96–97, 291
- Tōkyō paku*: about, 251n109, 276n88; “High-Collar Puck,” 51; “Mr. High Collar's Toilet,” 51, 52; muscular, bare-armed fist striking the high-collar gentleman, 56–57, 57; parable of “forbidden fruit,” 209, 209; “What parents at home think and what their children studying in Tokyo are doing,” 206, 206–207
- Tokyo Puck* (color caricature magazine). See also Kitazawa Rakuten: about, 50–51, 57; cover of the bankara issue of, 57; “The Latest Fashions: Mitsukoshi Clothing Store's Genroku Style and High-collar Western Clothes,” 167, 168; “student issue” parodying students pursuing their studies, 206, 206–207
- Tōkyō Shōkonsha, 129
- Tokyo tricentennial celebration (Tōkyō sanbyakunen sai), 128, 145, 146, 147–151, 291
- Tori Ryūzō (historian and anthropologist), 164, 270n114–116
- Tōshōgū Shrine (Ueno), 134, 147, 148, 264n26
- Toyabe Shuntei (character criticism), 75, 126
- Toyotomi Hideyoshi, 79, 105
- traditional Japanese hairstyles, 199, 274n61
- Treaty of Amity and Commerce Between the United States and Japan (Harris Treaty), 111, 243n12
- trends (hayari-mono), 2
- tricentennial celebration of Edo, 159
- tricentennial celebration of Tokyo (Tōkyō sanbyakunen sai), 128, 145, 146, 147–151, 291
- U
- Uchida Kuichi (photographer), 150
- Uchida Roan (writer), 37, 248n55, 300
- Uchimura Kanzō, 110
- Ueno Park, 145–146, 146
- Ueshima Nagahisa (writer), 50, 251n105, 301
- Uka Senshi's (Shibue Tamotsu): about, 83, 86, 92–93, 259n68; adventure novel Shin kaitei ryokō (New Travels on the Bottom of the Sea), 86, 93–94, 96, 258m 55, 259n69–70, 301; Eikoku bungaku-shi (A History of British Literature), 92, 93; taught Aizan the theories of John Stuart Mill and Herbert Spencer, 93
- Ukishiro monogatari* (Yano Ryūkei), 83
- universal manhood suffrage (1925), 184
- urban: culture, 41, 179, 181, 185–186, 201, 206, 212, 219–220, 225, 232, 269n100; elite, 195; magazines, 185, 215–216, 219, 221, 224; modernism for Japan's rural villages, 225; tastes, 155, 182, 185, 216, 227, 232; unemployment, 222
- urban women's magazines. See also women's magazines: about, 216, 224; Ie no hikari (Light of the Home), 216–221, 221, 222, 223, 224–226, 226, 273n38, 277n116–117; Jogaku zasshi, 217; Shufu no tomo, 217
- V
- valorization of. See also hero (heroes): culture of the Edo period, 18; lifestyle of asceticism and self-sacrifice, 220; masculine heroes in popular culture, 255n2; rural village, 228; samurai spirit and national heroes, 4
- Verne, Jules, 103
- village women as “tasteless” (yabo) and “backward” (okureteiru), 224
- vogue words (ryūkō-go), 2
- W
- “Warriors Tomb” (senshi no haka), 132
- Watanabe Kazan, 138
- Waters, Thomas J. (British engineer), 152
- Watsuji Tetsurō, 230
- Western: capitalism, 230–232; fashions, 21, 23, 32, 48, 69, 153, 165, 177–178, 245n10; modernity, 14, 155
- Westernization: backlash against the excessive, 199; Genroku revival vs., 165; Ginza as symbol of, 153; government's policy of, 40; of the Meiji state/period, 1, 4–5, 12–13, 21, 68, 122, 124, 165; middle class and, 177; modern consumer capitalism, 231; “nationalistic reaction” to, 122; Ōmura Masujirō and, 129; “populists” and “nationalists” attacked, 42; during the Rokumeikan, 37, 42; Seikyōsha (Society for Political Education), 144; Tokugawa period, 174; Women's Upswept Hair Society (Fujin Sokuhatsukai), 199
- White, Hayden, 77, 256n20, 301
- Williams, Linda, 89, 258n60, 287, 301
- Williams, Raymond, 225, 278n129, 301
- Williams, Rosalind H., 23, 246n16, 277n114
- Wirgman, Charles (British artist), 38
- Wollstonecraft, Mary, 220
- women (women's). See also geisha; hairstyle; prostitutes: adolescent development and rejection of women and femininity, 102; adventure novels depiction of “beautiful women,” 87–88, 101; aligned with fashion and consumption, 54; café waitresses (jokyū), 184, 189, 191–192; cities seduce young women and to stimulate female desire, 197; commodified as café waitresses or prostitutes, 189, 191; commodified sexual objectification of women, 191; of the demimonde (karyūkai), 162, 191; education, 53, 98, 195, 197, 201, 203, 208, 214, 252n116, 260n85; education and popular rights were all high-collar, 53; education subverted ideas of sexual difference based on clothing and appearance, 197–198; femininity was

Index to: Gender and Nation in Meiji Japan: Modernity, Loss and the Doing of History. Author: Jason G. Karlin.Indexed by: Clive Pyne Book Indexing <http://www.cpynebookindexing.com>

- perceived as antithetical to the process of nation building, 78; film actresses and revue girls, 174; Genroku beauties, 168–169, 170; “Genroku pattern” (genroku moyō) of clothing, 160, 162, 167–168, 168; “good wife, wise mother” (ryōsai kenbo), 5, 97–98, 195, 205, 207, 214, 260n85, 301; grist of popular journalism, 28; helpless women in distress, 87; heroes demonstrate their mastery over women, 101; “high-collar,” 48, 54–55, 55; ideologies of gender and nationalism, 15–16; as imagined loss and a desire for return, 5; Kanbun bijin, 168; male heroism and punishment of women, 88; masculinity predicated on the devaluation of women, 100; maternal society (bosei shakai) in postwar period, 16; men’s anxiety about intimacy, and dependence on women, 99; men’s desire to subordinate and punish women, 97; modern women (moga), 174; monstrous in their capacity for change and threatening to the social order of the all-male community, 17; morals of Japanese women, 187; “mystification of mass culture as woman,” 4; mythology of the “eternal feminine” who embody “everything that modernity was not,” 16; nostalgic expression of an idealized past, 5, 15, 172–173; objectification of, 172; object of nostalgic desire, 168; patriotic duty to better serve the nation, 205; pejorative feminine characteristics ascribed to mass culture, 15; “poison women” (dokufu), 17; as potent symbols around which the struggle for identity is contested, 15; as representations of nature and tradition, 5; rights, 199; role as consumers, 196; secondary education, 195, 197; sold into prostitution by their families, 192; standard of beauty is the face, 171, 171–172; subordination of women vs. domination of men, 72; symbolic violence toward women vs. masculine omnipotence, 84; as symbol of primordial loss and separation, 232; as symbols of the nation, 5; torture, 89–97; “transitory” dimension of the female body, 16; typology of the female body, 172; as victims of ritualized violence, 89–97; Westernization and rationalization of everyday life, 199; Western women’s dress, 39–40, 54; young women from poor villages of rural Japan, 189–194, 196; young women portrayed as gullible and weak victims, 187
- Women’s Association meetings (fujinkai), 224
 women’s magazines. See also urban women’s magazines: about, 198, 225, 241n2, 277n110, 277n113, 278n119; frank discussions of sexuality, 219; Jogaku sekai (Women’s World), 214, 283; Jogaku shinshi (Women’s Learning New Journal), 213–214; Jogaku zasshi (Women’s Learning Magazine), 214, 217, 247n32, 283; Kingu (King), 191, 215; promoted progress, efficiency, and hygiene, 219; Shufu-kai (Housewife World), 191; Shufu kurabu (Housewife Club), 191; Shufu no tomo (Housewife’s Companion), 191, 215, 217
 The Women’s Upswept Hair Society (Fujin Sokuhatsukai), 199
- Y
 Yamada Haruo, 158, 269n95
 Yamaji Aizan (journalist and historian). See also Carlyle, Thomas: about, 75–80, 257n31–33, 257n35–39, 261n112–113, 270n107, 302; articles on Christian in Jogaku zasshi, 76; articles published in Shinano mainichi, 77; “heroes and troubled times” (ei-yū to fū’un), 107; heroes of Japanese history, 79–82, 107, 110; heroism and moral character, 80; historical biographies, 79, 107; “Japanese Heroes of Their Time” (Jidai daihyō Nihon ei-yū-den), 79–80; joined Tokutomi Sohō’s Min’yūsha, 76; journal Dokuritu hyōron (Nichiro sensō jikki), 77; Min’yūsha member, 75; moral failings of the Meiji state, 81; Nihon jinmin-shi (A History of the Japanese People), 76; published articles in Kokumin no tomo and Kokumin shinbun, 76; Shinano mainichi (newspaper), 77; Thomas Carlyle, 77–79
 Yamakawa Hitoshi (radical socialist), 115
 Yamamoto Akira (sociologist), 1, 241n3, 302
 Yamamoto Matsutani: “Genroku geisha,” 163, 166
 Yamaoka Tesshū, 132
 Yamashita Fumio (author), 178, 271n2, 302
 Yamazaki Nobuyoshi (educator): about, 211–213, 276n98–100, 276n103, 302; Nōson jichi no kenkyū (Studies on the Autonomy of Agricultural Villages), 211–213
 Yanagawa Ryūtarō (adventurer), 103
 Yanagawa Shunsan (political editor), 124
 Yanagita Kunio (ethnographer): about, 227–232, 278n134–142, 279n143, 279n145, 302; Meiji Taishō-shi, sesō-hen, 228, 278n135, 278n140, 279n145
 Yano Ryūkei, 83, 246n13, 302
 Yasuda Zenjirō, 116, 117
 Yasukuni Shrine, 130, 268n84
 Yoda, Tomiko, 227, 244n25, 278n133, 302
 Yokoi Shōnan, 140–141, 266n52, 302
 Yokoi Tokiyoshi, 186, 213, 272n19–20, 302
Yomiuri shinbun (publication): about, 169, 203, 250n84, 252n120, 270n106, 270n109–114, 270n125; Makaze koikaze (novel), 197, 197, 203–204, 275n77; “Shin-Makaze koikaze” (New Demon Winds), 203, 275n78
 Yuri Kimimasa (Tokyo governor), 125, 152